

Mr. Tomislav Curkovic
President, Croatian Chamber of Architects

Barcelona, June 28, 2012

Dear Mr. Curkovic,

The Fundació Mies van der Rohe-Barcelona has begun the organisation of the European Union Prize for Contemporary Architecture-Mies van der Rohe Award 2013.

This biennial award recognises and commends excellence in the field of architecture and draws attention to the important contribution of European professionals in the development of new ideas and technologies.

On behalf of the Foundation, it is my pleasure to invite the CCA to collaborate with us once again in the award process by proposing five works for the jury's consideration.

According to the rules for the Prize:

5.1. The Architects' Council of Europe-member architectural associations and the other European national architects' associations will be invited to propose works by their members built in their own countries as well as transnational commissions that comply with either of the following conditions:

5.1.1. Works by European authors from other countries built in the country of the architectural association.

5.1.2. Works by their own members constructed in other European countries.

The ACE-member architectural associations and the other European national architects' associations may submit a maximum of five (5) proposals, except for France, Germany, Italy, Poland, Spain and the United Kingdom, each of which may submit a maximum of seven (7) proposals.

I would like to point out that each national association of architects should coordinate the nomination process in the manner that they decide is most appropriate. That is, for instance, a single professional or a committee may be appointed to carry out the procedure. We would only ask that the Foundation be advised as to how it will be organised and the name of the person(s) who would be responsible for submitting the proposals to us.

At this time, we are not requesting the proposals. Rather we need to receive the name of the person in your association who will be managing this procedure along with her or his contact information (e-mail and postal address, telephone and fax), by Thursday, July 9, 2012 so that we can inform about the proposal process.

Please note that the deadline for the submittal of the proposals will be Monday, October 1, 2012.

Attached please find a dossier with information about the Prize including the rules and the general guidelines for proposing works. Should you have any questions, please contact Ms. Diane Gray, Coordinator of the prize at: award@miesbcn.com.

We are very grateful to the CCA for your collaboration in previous editions of the Prize and we look forward to working with you on the 2013 Prize.

Yours sincerely,

Lluís Hortet
Director
